

THE CORRECT WAY TO SEAT A CHILD IN AN BOOSTER SEAT

The upper belt of the seatbelt or the shoulder strap, should be placed across between the breastbone and the collarbone without being too closet to the neck.

The top of the head and the headrest should be at the same height.

The lower belt or pelvic strap of the seatbelt should rest across the hip bones and not across the child's stomach.

The child should be able to comfortably bend their knees (if they are unable to it will be uncomfortable and they will end up sliding forward).
